

Our Response to COVID-19

The term COMMUNITY means more today than ever before. SanPete Financial Group is here to support the Financial innovation investment community, through good times and potentially challenging ones, and through strong and weak economic ecosystems. Just as we did at SanPete Financial Group Summit, we must figuratively come together under one roof to help each other operate and excel.

COVID19 does not change SanPete Financial Group's mission to support this community, from two-person startups to larger scale operations. We are currently working on programming to support those who work remotely, and will continue to provide unparalleled access and education to foster collaboration and connection, even in this new (and temporary) virtual environment. Please be on the lookout for more information on how you can participate coming soon!

We also are looking at ways to enact new SanPete Financial Group Challenges to support our community, especially for those who are already thinking about innovative ways to help others.

One of our main core values is "community first" (no matter what), so we will offer many programs at no charge. We do this gladly in service to our community as a pillar of support.

We understand that there are global, local, and personal ramifications related to this virus, but as a united community we will thrive. As a united community, we will continue to create. And as a united community, we can still show the world that innovation lives here.

Thank you very much,

Yvonne Gamble and the SanPete Financial Group Team
